SPRINGFIELD, OHIO 45503

September 28, 1983

Dear Sirs:

Out of all possible theme ideas for our school's yearbook, that of your company's album Synchronicity is most appealing. The album style lends itself to an imaginative yearbook. Specifically, the name of our book, The Polaris is somewhat similar to The Police, the three colors from the jacket could be used to designate the three seasons of the school year, and some of the lyrics could easily introduce specific sections of our book.

For these reasons and for the fact that the album is highly symbolic of this year and easily recognizable, we respectfully ask your permission to pattern our book after the album, to use Synchronicity as a theme, and to use portions of lyrics in our yearbook. We will give any and all credit due to your company as sole owners of copyrighted materials.

We thank you for your considerations in this matter and eagerly await your reply. Thank you for your kindness.

Sincerely,

Polaris Staff

As explained to you by A&M Records I can only give you permission to use lyrics from Synchronicity. I see no problem with that provided you only use these lyrics for your high school year book.

quoted the coach as she summed up the season. The women's tennis team, by far, had one of the most exciting seasons North has ever seen. With the coming of first-year coach Connie Bost also came a long string of victories. The entire Varsity team qualified for the district tournament which was held in Cincinnati. This was a "first ever" for North.

Rachael Johnson, a freshman, playing first won the Sectional, placed 4th in the District, and was a Quarter Finalist in the State Tournament.

Anne Marie Heine and Trish Hultz, who shared the title of MVP, played as Var sity's first doubles team and were undefeated in all of their Western Ohio League matches.

Jane Warren and Cathy Woodburn were team captains, playing 2nd and 3rd singles positions respectively.

Molly Carmosino, Stef Sayers, and Stacey Walters had undefeated seasons.

Katy Brougher and Freshman partner Jennie Booth played Varsity second doubles and qualified for Districts.

The entire 1983 Women's Tennis Team will stand as a model for the teams of the future. Congratulations and thanks for serving North an outstanding season.

Soccer

A small step for North but a big kick for the fans the 1983 Soccer season produced some wins as payoff for increased effort. Since he came to North in 1982, Coach John Holoviak has had to battle disorganization along with lacking experience in order to goal orient the team. The coaches' time and players' efforts were repaid by the thrill of victory. Reserve coach Dan Switzer assisted the head coach and inspired Co-Captains Marty Houston, Andy Cutler, and Donnie Warner. The first volley toward a legacy has been taken, the underclassmen must take the ball from here.

GOLF

The 1983 Golf Team enjoyed one of its finest seasons in North's history. The varsity team was made up of four seniors, Tim Shouland, Casey Hudson, Greg Lawson, and Clinton Carey, and one sophomore, Scott Malin.

The team which posted a 22-5 record finished first in the sectionals at Weatherwax in Middletown and broke school records at a tournament held at Reid Park. The sectional scores at Reid were as follows: Tim — 70

Greg — 71

Casey — 74

Clinton — 80

Scott — 90

While interviewing the coach, Mr. Ulliman, he was asked to describe the season in one word — "crazy" was the response of the veteran coach.

The reserve team equally ready for action was Wuzzer Rader, Ty Jenks, Rick Shouland, Joel Englemeier, and Chuck Miller.

"Senior Leadership was the key!" according to coaches Reimer and Ford. Because of that Leadership the Varsity team netted a twelve win ten loss season followed similarly by Reserve record of eleven wins and eight losses. The best volleyball season so far in the school's history showed North victorious in the tournament games, until finally meeting defeat in the sectional finals. Varsity team Co-Captains were Tracy Perry and Nettie Carter with Nettie also earning MVP honors. The leadership they and all the players provided, was the key for the season and will be the key to future volleyball success.

The North High Cross Country teams sprinted their way to a great 83-84 season with the help of Coach Ron Monroe and cross country alumni, Jeff Steinmetz.

Team moral and spirit ran high as the Panthers raced through meets and invitational finishing as a top team. This year was also the first year the entire girls team, led by sophomore Grahm Ulvestad and seniors, Siobhan Houston and Julie Evancho, Shelley Steinmetz, made it to the Districts.

Overall, the boys team ran circles around opposing teams. Sophomore Mark Neff was the Lone Runner at Districts for the boys team.

North High has continuously had good Cross-Country teams which we should be proud of.

FOOTBALL

The Panther football players showed us each week that winning isn't everything, by their ability to take a licking and keep on ticking. The Panthers, led by senior captains; Joe Boeke, Andy Brougher, Barney Channels, Tim Johnson, Todd Roberts and Sean Sanders, made impressive shows against Tecumseh, Fairborn and Stebbins, proving there is hope for the future. When the 1983 season came to an end, many people received highly coveted awards; Joe Boeke, defensive MVP, Sean Sanders — Offensive MVP, Todd Roberts — Most improved. Ralph Stanely, a sophomore, was all league linebacker. All league honorable mention went to Joe Boeke, Mark Hicks, Harlie Ray, Todd Roberts, and Sean Sanders. Joe Boeke was the only one to make the All County Team. There is always next year for the Panthers, and with their fine young talent, North will soon improve their 0-30 record. '83 HOMECOMING MEMORIES

Homecoming G

Rob Carlisle
Debbie Schmenk

North's Homecoming was a first this year with the theme being "Movie Memories." It was the first time the queen was announced at the football game. The queen was usually announced at the dance. We even had last year's queen come to crown the new queen.

It was a clean (queen) sweep for F.M.L. They won the float contest with a float done like M.A.S.H. and their candidate, Amy Powell, was crowned queen.

The dance was done nicely. There was popcorn on the tables and even silent movies.

There was also surprise entertainment with the teachers doing a line dance. All and all it was an exciting evening.

Panther Club

Something you could sink your claws into along with a mere dollar, this club gave everyone a chance to take a small part in school spirit, without this group the backing for Homecoming and all the wall posters announcing athletic contests would have been missing. A bonus to all those members was reduced admissions to certain dances and other special school functions.

Thanks to first year advisor Mrs. Sandy Garvey the Panther Cabinet continued its tradition of excellence. The writing was on the wall (posters) for each athletic contest because of the efforts of the P.C. Top billing events they sponsored were the "Movie Memories" Homecoming and Spring Flings Battle of the Bands. All the hard work workers on this cabinet were definitely top shelf.

Organizing and overseeing the Executive Board, the Executive Cabinet, which includes Student Body Officers, Communications Announcers and the Promotions Chairperson, mainly prepared the agenda which directed the Board's efforts.

Composed of all Class Council officers plus members of the Executive Cabinet, The Executive Board's function was to organize any activity sponsored by the Student Council as a whole. Their activities included preparation of the Student Newsletter, Faculty Appreciation Breakfast, projecting the after-game movie "Psycho," Coronation Day, the Sadie Hawkins and Beach dances and the ever-popular and unforgettable North High pen and pencil machines which spewed school-colored writing utensils for a paltry fee.

Big

Brothers and Sisters

Being the new kid on the block isn't easy, even when the new block is inhabited by Panthers. But through the wisdom and guidance of the Big Brothers and Sisters, freshmen at North found the transition from the various middle schools to be pretty smooth. From leading school tours to instructing about student handbook regulations to helping with individual schedules, the Bigs were there to lead a Big helping hand.

Self Scheduling

Yes, you were in school; but no, you were not in classes, but Yes, you wanted to be in some even though it was summer. You were experiencing self scheduling for your classes. And if you got lucky you got every class you wanted. Yes, everyone was lucky to have so much choice in their own schedule.

THAT's ENTERTAINMENT! And it was entertainment. The Fall Variety Show at North is always an incredibly fun and enjoyable event. The acts included rock bands, faculty dancing and singing, acting and an unforgettable one night appearance of the Rock 'n Roll legend, Rock Pyle.

This year's program also included break dancing, comedy and acrobatics. The Variety Show gives all of our closet entertainers a chance to perform for a live audience instead of in front of a mirror at home. Hopefully, this activity will continue at North for a long time. Hollywood eat your heart out; the real talent is right here!

THE HALLOW

IT'S A MYSTERY TO ME!

Agatha Christie's murder mystery "The Hollow," was the choice of director Linda Bodey for this year's winter play. The chilling story took place in England, where a fine young doctor, played by Brad Commerford, is murdered in a friend's house while on a weekend vacation. Anyone could have done it, but only Inspector Colquhoun, played by Peter Bressoud, can figure out this tricky case. Colquhoun has many suspects to choose from, the jealous wife played by Kathrin Eimer or the Doctor's lover portrayed by Heidi Meyer or even the meek cousin played by Rauf Yousuf. As in most of Christie's plays, there was a twist ending that would surprise even the most hardened killer in the audience. "The Hollow" with its excellent cast and director turned out to be a frightening but wonderful hit.

GYMNASTICS

A new twist was put into this year's gymnastics when Lisa Cyphers took over coaching responsibilities. A group with four seniors, one junior, one sophomore, and the rest of the freshmen flipped from inexperience in October to a true team by February, finishing in the exact center of the league at the WOL competition. This was due to the girls' balance of work with fun which made the season very worthwhile, especially for most improved gymnast, Nicole Rogers and Captain, Most Valuable Gymnast, Julie Shank.

North High School spirit starts with a cheer from 24 girls, 6 varsity football/women's basketball, 6 varsity soccer/women's basketball, 5 juniors, and 7 freshmen.

These girls held a clinic for young girls to raise money for new uniforms, pom poms, etc.

Spirit does NOT stop at the games. Halls, lockers, and locker rooms are also decorated, along with posters and signs which are made.

Their season started off in the summer with practices and attending a cheerleading camp at Wittenberg U. The varsity squad brought home a spirit stick and one of these two squads was chosen to compete among the best at camp.

Their advisors Donna Lord and Candi Young have done an excellent job for their first year.

ONLY ONE ACT?

There were actually three student directed one acts. The One Act plays are actually designed to let different students participate and act on stage. The Freshman-Sophomore One Act "An Open and Shut Case" was directed by Peter Bressoud and assisted by Andy Zimmerman. This murder mystery by John Mattera was indeed a fine story with a twisted ending. The Sophomore-Junior One Act, "Special Guest" was intense drama written by Donald Elsor and under the direction of Melissa Talor who was assisted by Heidi Meyer. The comedy "When Death Do Us Part" written by Cory Reed was put on by the Junior-Senior group under the direction of Chris Kattell who was assisted by Brad Comerford. All three One Acts went well and were very enjoyable to watch.

SADIE SWEETIES

The theme of this year's Sadie Hawkins, Valentine's dance was a switch from the usual Sadie Hawkins hoe down. The switch came about when the organizers decided to try something different by combining Sadies with a Valentine's dance just three days before the romantic holiday. Girls lassooed their dates and jumped into North on Saturday February 11, where they could have their pictures taken with their sweethearts, or get married or even find out the future at a special fortune telling game. This year's Sadies had some special twists but in the end it was a good time and hopefully everyone who leaped into love came back down softly.

The sun, the surf, the waves, the women; sound like a Beach Boys song? No way! That was North High. When the winter got too much, students didn't go to Florida, they brought Florida to North. Arriving at school in the morning was like stepping into an old surf movie with scenes of beach fun, tennis fun, swim fun, and no one will ever forget Lover's Lane. North's Heat Wave Day was nothing less than HOT!

Stealing?

Dampened spirits resulted from inclement weather conditions that cut nearly half of the '84 softball teams' scheduled games. Though such conditions were discouraging, after much hard practice, Varsity Coach Nancy Sherwood and Reserve Coach Lynne Reimer said the team was very enjoyable. At season's end, honorary Captain Sarita Roseberry and MVP Brooke Miller, looked back at a total team effort that led to an unprecedented tournament victory and an overall four and nine record. The ladies reigned for us.

Inconsistent. Because of rain, a full dozen of the team's regularly scheduled games were cancelled. Despite the deluge, Varsity Coach Mark Stall and Reserve Coach Kevin Hall squeezed out a respective 9-7 and 3-5 seasons. Captains for the Varsity were William (B.C.) Carter and Dave Prendergast with Dave also earning MVP honors. The highlight of the '84 hardball season was the 3 to 1 destruction of the South Wildcats. No doubt, for a first year program, North had a good year and promises a bright future.

ADD IN TENNIS . . . In a season shortened by more rain than usual, the 1984 Men's Tennis Team showered North with victories, an even dozen on the positive side with three mere negatives. League play was closely contested this year, but North emerged unscathed and each handed the Centerville Elks their first league loss in seven years on the way to the W.O.L. crown. League honors were gained by Craig Capelli and Sam Walsh, the team Captain and MVP, who finished second in the Sectorial Tournament and proceeded to Districts in Cincinnati. But the heart of the team was the other players such as freshman Tim Chu, who had the pressure of four separate matches on his shoulders and carried every one to victory. It was a young man, not a senior on the squad, and it will be back in force in '85.

The North High Marching Band and Drill Team had a hardworking, yet exciting season. Starting with their annual day camp at North, they worked on the program from 8:00 in the morning to 2:30 in the afternoon, for a week. This was proceeded by a week in the great outdoors at Camp Evergreen. Battling the mosquitos and scorching heat, they spent many hours learning music and drills. A few members of the drill team also participated in the drill team clinic at OSU over the summer. Such ac tivities as new routines and contests composed the clinic.

The band performed a total of four shows this year. They include: The E.T. show, senior show, The Homecoming shows, and the Famed Fifties show, in which the band and drill team received standing ovations.

The Xenia Festival, Graham Festival, and North-South festival were also part of the band's Activities.

All school organizations and booster groups had their chance to break away from the usual plethora of money-making schemes and to cause some fun while making some funds. Since all proceeds funnel directly back to students, everyone had a doubly good time at the Spring Fling, doing their own thing.

FASHIONED PROM

The theme of this year's prom was an Old Fashioned Prom. And it was! As the seniors and juniors stepped into the school building, the halls had been transformed into the year 1884. Oh, but it didn't stop there. The 1984 prom included picture fun, gazebos, a lover's footbridge crossing, a bubbling stream, and who will forget the waterfountain in the courtyard. Later in the evening Keith Strickland and Laura Hamilton were named prom King and Queen. All together it was a fun filled, romantic evening that won't soon be forgotten by those who stroll back in time.

The Junior Class council got off to a great start with President Tami Bailey, Vice-President Gavin Halk, Secretary Marcie LeFevre, and advisors Mrs. Hackwell and Mr. Day. First on the list of activities was the annual "Teacher Turkey Day" with Mrs. Hackwell as our lucky winner! Ever popular Gummy Bears, along with the famed "commercials" followed close behind even though the sales were prohibited during school hours. With the help and dedication of the members of the junior class council and other interested juniors they worked on "An Old Fashioned Prom." Prom turned out to be a big success.

As quoted by President Tami Bailey, "our job is to promote the well-being of the junior class and to be their voice. These are our leaders of today and tomorrow."

CLASSSS

The 1984 edition of Class Night was presented at the Wittenburg Union. Everyone enjoyed a fine dinner of roast beef and potatoes before sitting back, getting comfortable and preparing themselves for a wonderful evening of awards, comedy, singing and conversation. During the course of the night scholarships were awarded. The top ten scholars were recognized, class favorites were voted and named, class officers recognized, and Carnac The Magnificent, amazed the throng with his biting wit. The evening was brought to an end as everyone sang the Alma Mater: Lead On, Lead On, North High.

GRADUATION

Pomp and Circumstance, blue and white tears, diplomas, handshaking, hugs, the 1984 graduates didn't miss any of this Graduation Night fun. It was whispered around the North High gymnasium that this was one of the most dignified ceremonies in recent history. Anticipation for each senior and his family built as Dr. Woodward announced each senior's name. Diplomas were handed out by the president of the school board, Barbara Crabill. When all the speeches, songs and diplomas were finished, the class of 1984 threw their caps in the air, along with other objects that resembled erasers. After spending three years at North High students, the difference was they were now North High graduates.

Dear Sirs:

Out of all possible theme ideas for our school's yearbook, that of your company's album Synchronicity is most appealing. The album style lends itself to a graduation yearbook. Specifically, the name of our team, The Polaris, is somewhat similar to the Police, the three colors from the jacket could be used to decorate the three seasons of the school year, and some of the lyrics could easily introduce specific sections of our book.

For these reasons and for the fact that the album is highly symbolic of this year and easily recognizable, we respectfully ask your permission to pattern our book after the album, to use Synchronicity as a theme, and to use portions of lyrics in our yearbook. We will give any and all credits due to your company as sole owners of copyrighted materials.

We thank you for your considerations in this matter and eagerly await your reply. Thank you for your kindness.

Sincerely,

Re: SYNCHRONICITY

Ladies and Gentlemen:

Thank you for considering one of A&M Records, Inc.'s album for your yearbook.

The permission of the record company is not required to pattern your yearbook after the album. Permission must be obtained from us for the use of the recorded sound or the duplication of the exact artwork from the jacket.

Permission for use of lyrics must be obtained from Illegal Songs, the publisher for Police. By copy of this letter and your request to Beverly Martin of Illegal Songs, I am asking that she contact you directly.

If you have any further questions please contact me at the address below.

Sincerely,

Shirley Sakamoto

Dear Sirs,

As explained to you by A&M Records I can only give you permission to use lyrics from Synchronicity. I see no problem with that provided you only use these lyrics for your high school year book.

Our congratulations to all the graduates!
